

CORI JO & THE AND THE OUTLAW JUNKIES

Cori Jo and The Outlaw Junkies are one of today's hottest regional country acts in the mid-west! With sizzling twin fiddles and lead guitars, they even win over the non-country music fans!

They have performed at fairs, festivals, concert venues nationwide and opened for many national acts including RCA recording artist ALABAMA.

They were the 2002 regional finalist in the Colgate Country Showdown as well as the back up band for the competition previous years.

In 2007 the group showcased for the Kansas and Missouri fairs and festivals associations and performed for over 40 county fairs, state fairs and festivals working with The Oak Ridge Boys, Bellamy Brothers, Mark Chesnutt, Trent Tomlinson and even rock groups such as the Nelsons and the legendary Jordanaires.

About Cori Jo:

From the very early age of 6 years old, lead vocalist Cori Jo was raised playing and enjoying bluegrass music. She attended South Plains College in Levelland, Texas for country music. She played on several shows in Nashville, Tennessee and performed in theaters including Dolly Parton's Dixie Stampede in Pigeon Forge, Tennessee. Cori Jo is right at home running around on stage with her cowgirl boots on and fiddle in-hand performing with the same passion that got her where she is today. You don't want to get in her way!

Band members include: Cori Jo Adams (Lead Vocal, Mandolin, Fiddle), Troy Wahl (Guitar, Baritone, Acoustic), Nate Dean (Lead Guitar, Vocals), Richard Ralph (Bass Guitar, Vocals), and Daron Tapscott (Fiddle, Mandolin and Harp,) and Mike Ward (Drums).

Cori Jo and the Outlaw Junkies are experts at blending the old and new, rock and country along with great original music. They love to entertain and are passionate at what they do and it shows in their live concerts. This is an act not to miss!
